Royal Palaces of Zealand

Guided tour «Royal Palaces of Zealand» – guided tour around and into the castles – Kronborg and Frederiksborg, and tour outside the Fredensborg castle.

Frederiksborg castle is situated in the city of Hillerød in North Zealand region of Denmark. It was built as a royal residence for King Christian IV and is now a museum of National History. First castle that was established here dates back to 1560 and was named Hillerødholm after the name of the town. The castle is located on three small islands in the middle of Palace Lake (Slotsøen) and is adjoined by a large formal garden in the Baroque style.

Kronborg castle is situated near Helsingør town at the north-east part of Zealand Island. Here the Öresund Sound is at its narrowest and the distance between Denmark and Sweden is only 4 km. Such location made this castle an important strategic and military outpost during many centuries. Today Kronborg is known as a home of Hamlet and Ogier the Dane. According to the legend, Ogier the Dane is still sleeping in the heart of the castle ready to wake up to save Denmark in case of danger.
