Your tour will depart from the port of Haifa driving towards the Carmel Mountain in the renovated German colony with all the rebuilt Bauhaus buildings.

Arriving to the top of the mountain to the most spectacular spot you'll enjoy the panoramic view overlooking the bay of Haifa and the Lewis Promenade.

After a short visit to the upper part of the Baha'i Gardens and the hanging gardens, you'll continue your drive to the Carmelites monastery, the church of the present monastery dates from 1836 and was built with the munificence of the French monarchy, hence the name of the surrounding neighbourhood: French Carmel. A small pyramid memorial topped with an iron cross commemorates those French who were slaughtered here by the Turks in 1799 after the retreating Napoléon left his ailing troops behind at the monastery.

Inside, paintings in the dome depict Elijah in the chariot of fire in which he ascended to heaven, and other biblical prophets. The small grotto a few steps down at the end of the nave is traditionally associated with Elijah and his pupil, Elisha.
