Highlights:

- Pick up and drop to and from your accommodation / Cruise/ Airport/Railway station
- Two hours guided tour inside slums of Dharavi.
- See the Dabbawallas(Tiffin man) transfer dabbas in precise, calculated ways
- see some best sightseeing places of Mumbai including Gateway of India and Dhobi ghat (washer man place)

Overview:

This combo tour is perfect for the travelers who like to see most in short span of time, we will take you to few but to the most finest sightseeing places of Mumbai, so tight your seat belts and go.

Description:

This tour tells the story of the transformation of Mumbai from a monocultural sleepy fishing hamlet into a melting pot that is today the commercial capital of India. The tour will showcase all aspects of Mumbai – the narrow geographical layout, the coastline, the daily commuting, the various communities that make up the city, the old heritage district, the old commercial and residential districts, and the up-and-coming districts.

This tour covers all the must-see places on any traveler's itinerary to Mumbai, including the Gateway of India, Dhobi Ghat, the Town Hall, Victoria Terminus, the Municipal Building, Marine Drive, Chowpatty Beach, and Mani Bhavan. It is an ideal tour to learn about the history and culture of Mumbai, and to introduce yourself to the wonderful city.

Discover the vast industry of tiffin delivery service in Mumbai on this comprehensive Dabbawalla tour. The word Dabbawalla refers to a person who carries and delivers freshly made food from home in lunch boxes to office workers. Watch as 4,500 Dabbawallas collect and deliver 175,000 packages in just a few hours. The entire system depends on teamwork and careful timing.

Begin at Churchgate Railway Station and watch the Dabbawallas transfer dabbas into the wooden cart on the train. Hear a brief introduction with the Dabbawallas and their exact arrangements about how the tiffins are coded and distributed.

Head toward Dhobi Ghat, where a traditional laundry man will collect your dirty linen, wash it, and return it neatly pressed to your doorstep. Continue back to Churchgate Station and watch the Dabbawallas carrying their goods before heading back to your hotel.

Flora Fountain

It stands at a busy five-point intersection in the heart of the commercial Fort area. The beautifully sculptured fountain was erected in the memory of the Governor, Sir Henry Bartle Edward Frere, as a tribute for his contribution towards the building of Mumbai.

Gateway of India

Mumbai's most famous monument, this is the starting point for most tourists who want to explore the city. It was built as a triumphal arch to commemorate the visit of King George V and Queen Mary, complete with four turrets and intricate latticework carved into the yellow basalt stone. Ironically, when the Raj ended in 1947, this colonial symbol also became a sort of epitaph: the last of the British ships that set sail for England left from the Gateway. Today this symbol of colonialism has got Indianised, drawing droves of local tourists and citizens. Behind the arch, there are steps leading down to the water.

Nariman Point:

Nariman Point is the leading business center in Mumbai, previously called Bombay. Located on the southern end of Marine Drive in South Mumbai, Nariman Point owes its name to Khusheed Framji Nariman - a futurist Parsi, who wished to retrieve the land from the sea in 1940.

At Marine drive:

Marine Drive is a skillfully laid-out boulevard in South Mumbai. It is actually an upturned 'C'-shaped six lane concrete road, which lengthens to 3 km along the coastline - a natural bay. This avenue connects Nariman Point with Malabar Hills. Situated over domesticated land, facing west-south-west, its coastline forms the part of the Arabian Sea. What draws attention to this avenue is the striking esplanade next to the road, where scores of people come to breathe fresh air and view sunset.

Prince of Wales museum: (Closed on Mondays)

Counted among the most famous art museums in Mumbai, this museum showcases huge collection of natural history artifacts, Indian miniature paintings, decorative art, Tibetan and Nepali Art, European paintings and armory and textile galleries.

Hanging garden

Perched at the top of Malabar Hill, on its western side, just opposite the Kamala Nehru Park, these terraced gardens, also known as Ferozeshah Mehta Gardens, provide lovely sunset views over the Arabian Sea. The park was laid out in the early 1880s over Bombay's main reservoir, some say to cover the water from the potentially contaminating activity of the nearby Towers of Silence.

Mani Bhawan

Mani Bhavan is the old Mumbai residence of Mahatma Gandhi. It's a pretty, two-storied structure that now houses a reference library with over 2000 books, a photo exhibition of the Mahatma's life, and well preserved memorabilia, including an old charkha or spinning wheel that Gandhiji used to use. Today, its only a symbolic exhibit that lies unused, but many old Gandhians still visit the place to pay homage to their hero and demonstrate the noble art of spinning your own yarn!

Haji Ali

Haji Ali is a venerated tomb (dargah) of the Muslims. Not only from Mumbai, people from all parts of India come to pay homage to this mosque. Located on an island off the shoreline of Worli, Haji Ali Mosque looks stunning amidst the blue waters of the sea. It also makes the most popular landmark of Bombay. In 1431, the mosque was built by Haji Ali - a rich Muslim merchant, who gave up all worldly charms before going to the pilgrimage of Mecca.

Dhobighat :

A unique feature of Mumbai, the dhobi is a traditional laundryman, who will collect your dirty linen, wash it, and return it neatly pressed to your doorstep. All for a pittance. The "laundries" are called "ghats": row upon row of concrete wash pens, each fitted with its own flogging stone. The clothes are soaked in sudsy water, thrashed on the flogging stones, then tossed into huge vats of boiling starch and hung out to dry. Next they are ironed and piled into neat bundles, almost two hundred dhobis and their families work together in what has always been a hereditary occupation.

Iskon Temple

ISKCON Temple of Mumbai, dedicated to Lord Krishna, is one of the forty ISKCON temples across India. Built by the ISKCON Foundation, the elevated spire of this temple dominates the skyline of Juhu in Mumbai (erstwhile Bombay). The International Society of Krishna Consciousness (ISKCON) has built a chain of temples throughout the world to promulgate the message of Bhagwat Gita. With such endeavor, this cult desires to increase the consciousness about Lord Krishna.

Juhu Beach

Juhu Beach is a beautiful beach, which gets strokes of turquoise waves day and night. Located in the central suburb of Mumbai, this coastline acts as a coolant to your worries and tensions. One can access this unruffled beach from Vile Parle, Santa Cruz and Andheri as well. It's the pre-eminent place to view spectacular sunsets, when the ceaseless horizon appears splendidly tinted in shades of red and orange. This lovely sight of the sun descending into the vast Arabian Sea, presents an amazing vista that is hard to forget.

What guest will see:

Victoria Terminus station

Modeled on the lines of the St Pancras Station in London, Victoria Terminus is undoubtedly the Raj's piece de resistance, Complete with carved stone friezes, stained glass windows and flying buttresses. It is Gothic architecture at its best, an awesome edifice that most citizens view with deep pride. At the top of the central dome stands the triumphant figure of Progress.

The station was christened to commemorate Victoria Jubilee Day in 1887 when India's first steam engine puffed out to neighboring Thane, about 45 kms away. Today it has been rechristened Chhatrapati Shivaji Terminus after the Maratha warrior. And the old steam engines have been replaced by electric ones. But to the 2.5 million commuters who push past its massive portals everyday, this is still VT, the pulse of a throbbing city.

Gateway of India

Mumbai's most famous monument, this is the starting point for most tourists who want to explore the city. It was built as a triumphal arch to commemorate the visit of King George V and Queen Mary, complete with four turrets and intricate latticework carved into the yellow basalt stone. Ironically, when the Raj ended in 1947, this colonial symbol also became a sort of epitaph: the last of the British ships that set sail for England left from the Gateway. Today this symbol of colonialism has got Indianised, drawing droves of local tourists and citizens. Behind the arch, there are steps leading down to the water.

Flora Fountain

It stands at a busy five-point intersection in the heart of the commercial Fort area. The beautifully sculptured fountain was erected in the memory of the Governor, Sir Henry Bartle Edward Frere, as a tribute for his contribution towards the building of Mumbai.

Nariman Point:

Nariman Point is the leading business center in Mumbai, previously called Bombay. Located on the southern end of Marine Drive in South Mumbai, Nariman Point owes its name to Khusheed Framji Nariman - a futurist Parsi, who wished to retrieve the land from the sea in 1940.

Group	110	80	77	60	50	48	33

Description

This excursion, which begins at sunrise, will give you the opportunity to experience a morning in Bombay like a real Indian. You will have an unforgettable experience by taking a local train – the Bombay lifeline, visiting the bustling flower and vegetable market as well as visiting the ISKON temple where you will participate in the morning prayer ritual – 'Arti'.

What we will see

- Take a local train
- Flower and vegetable markets
- The temple of ISKON to participate in the morning prayer ritual.

What we will live

- The first hours of the day are an appointment with a surreal Bombay. Attending the awakening of this unique city allows you to live an incredible experience by visiting the bowels of this magnificent city; you will understand what makes it so special. To know

Bombay, the experience of a local train trip is a must which will make you discover the true culture “Mumbaikar”.

- You will board the train from Church Gate to Dadar station where you can see how the multilingual newspapers are separated and distributed with 100% accuracy.
- Our next stop will be the flower market. Flowers are an integral part of the Indian way of life. Indeed, in most Indian homes, the day begins with the lighting of traditional lamps and the gods are idolized with flowers. The flowers are brought to Dadar, the wholesale market, from different parts of the state.
- In the fruit and vegetable market, trucks arrive from all the most important towns in the state; they are unloaded and moved by porters in traditional stalls. You can see customers haggling and negotiating the best deals.
- Our last stop will bring us to the ISKON (International Society for Krishna Consciousness) temple where you can follow in the morning: 'Arti' (religious ritual with lamps and music). The atmosphere is so dynamic and electrifying that you will feel lifted to a higher level, and you will be tempted to join the rituals and the dance. Indeed, the people in charge of the temple encourage visitors who would be interested to join in the ritual and the dances, so many do so happily.

Stroll down the nostalgic gullies (lanes) of Mumbai and discover a rich culinary heritage. Every lane and every window has a story to tell; often a story that is several centuries old. Experience the city with all your senses and soak up the colours, sounds, sights, aromas and tastes.

It is best to start the tour at about 16:00 during the summer, when the heat of the day begins to wane, but as a private tour you can start at any time you prefer, as the shops are open from around 10:00 to 22:00 every day of the week.

You will go to some of the best street food stalls in the city and visit spice and vegetable markets. See the city unfold as you stroll and watch its electric pace burst into life. All you need to bring is an empty stomach and an open mind. You will pause for tea and can include lunch if you'd like.

The 5-hour tour will also show you some of the best places to shop for wholesale dress material, accessories, Indian jewellery and more. With the services of an expert guide, you will leave with a local's eye view of the gateway to India

Highlights:

Discover the world of Mumbai's street food

Learn about the Indian culinary heritage

Visit a spice market

Inclusions:

- Pick-up and drop-off
- English speaking guide
- Entrance fees and transport as indicated
- Food & Beverages Cost

Additional Information:

- Please dress modestly. Dress standards are conservative throughout Asia, especially outside major cities. To respect this and for your own comfort, we strongly recommend modest clothing. This means clothing that covers your shoulders and knees. Loose, lightweight, long clothing is both respectful and cool in the predominantly hot Asian climate.
