Cancellation and rescheduling policy:

24 hours.

We will pick you up to begin our Torres del Paine full day tour with a 2 hours trip from Punta Arenas to Puerto Natales. From this city, where we will make a stop to refuel the vehicle and have some time to have breakfast, we will go to the Cueva del Milodón Natural Monument that we will be able to visit while the guide tell us the story of this extinct animal and how was discovered. After that, we will go back to our vehicle to go to the Torres del Paine National Park, where we will enjoy the views of the landscape from the Sarmiento Lake, Amarga Lagoon and Nordenskjöld Lake viewpoints. In addition, we will pass by the Pehoé Lake and the Paine Waterfall, from where we will have a privileged view to the towers and the Paine River Waterfall. Then, we will make a small walk of around 20 minutes to get to the border of the Grey Lake, from where we will have another perspective of the Paine Massif and the Cuernos del Paine, if the weather conditions allow it. In total, to go there and back, and walk through the beach, you will walk around 3 km through an easy path. Regardless of it, this waling is optional for those who don't want or don't feel in conditions to do it. After this complete day of Patagonian landscape, we will begin our travel back to the city of Punta Arenas.

The places that will be visited are subject to change the same day of the tour because of adverse weather conditions.*

The ending time of this activity might be modified due to weather conditions, reason why our recommendation is not to buy tickets for leaving Punta Arenas until three hours after the returning time or travel the next day after the end of the tour.*

Overview

Important Information With only one day in Punta Arenas, this full-day tour allows you to check off all the highlights. Spend the morning exploring the coastline of the Strait of Magellan, stopping at historic sites like Fort Bulnes, Mansa, and Puerto del Hambre; then, visit the sights of Punta Arenas, such as the Museum of Patagonia, the plaza, and the monument to Hernando de Magallanes.

Highlights

Full-day tour of Punta Arenas and the Strait of Magellan Visit Fort Bulnes, Mansa, and Puerto del Hambre along the Magellan coast Admire views of the Strait of Magellan and Tierra del Fuego Visit the Museum of Patagonia, the plaza de Armas Hernando de Magallanes Monument in the port of Punta Arenas or at the hotel. Transportation to and from the hotel is included. Ideal tour for those who visit Punta Arenas for the first time or those who have little time.

What you can expect:

Day trip to Punta Arenas and the Strait of Magellan on the way to the fort The tour begins after your pickup, and you will drive 60 km south of the city. The route runs through the Strait of Magellan to observe a variety of seabirds: seagulls, caiquenes, ibis, cormorants and others. The journey takes approximately one hour. Your first destination is the reference point that marks the geographic center of Chile, where you can take pictures and then continue to Fort Bulnes, just one kilometer from the sector.

After an hour inside this fort, the return will begin, but not before visiting another historic site, Mansa, which is located a mile from Fort Bulnes. Here you visit the city of King Don Felipe, founded in 1584 by Don Pedro Sarmiento and later renamed Puerto del Hambre. You can also take photos and learn the history of this place. Now, I return to the city of Punta Arenas. You will have lunch at a restaurant of your choice. Visiting Punta Arenas, the southernmost city of the American continent, is a walk through the history of Patagonia. The first stop is at the "Cerro de la Cruz" viewpoint, where you get a wonderful overview of the city and its colorful roofs, the Strait of Magellan and the back of the great Tierra del Fuego. Here, the local guide will give you important information about the city. The tour continues through the streets of the city, to the main square, a place surrounded by beautiful colonial buildings. In addition, you can see the monument to Hernando de Magallanes and buy local crafts. After that, you will visit the Museum of Patagonia. The last part of the tour includes a tour of the northern part of the city, which allows you to see the large number of monuments, such as the monument to the shepherd, the Croatian square, the Antoine de Saint Exupery square and the different neighborhoods of Punta Arenas. Finally, you will return to the hotel or port. DESCRIPTION

The "Estancia" is located at Km 137 Ruta 9 Norte, dating back to the late 19th century with the arrival of the Scottish family of Mr. Alexander Morrison with his wife Hellen McCall to the Magallanes region in 1891. They were part of the many European colonizers who migrated to the region and started the livestock activity in the area.

The estancia has transcended five generations and the original facilities are still preserved, within which are the manor house and the shearing shed. As a complement to the sheep farming activity, in 1990 we incorporated tourism, which has contributed to keeping history alive and being able to show the typical activities of one of the first ranches in Patagonia.

ACTIVITIES

Horseback riding :

We invite you to experience Patagonia with our horseback riding on the banks of the Penitente River. They all begin in the stable of the ranch, where the basic safety instructions are given to start our adventure. During the tour, we will cross the Penitente River and enjoy the flora and fauna characteristic of the southernmost region of the world, where it is common to see foxes, rheas, caracaras, and also condors. In addition, the curious llamas of the ranch will be present that will accompany us part of the way. Upstream and from the top of the mountains, you will be able to appreciate a privileged view of the Penitente river valley, of our ranch and the nature in which it is immersed.

recreational fishing:

Just steps from the inn is the Penitente River, where you can enjoy "catch and release" fly fishing or return fishing. The river is born in Chile, at the foot of Cerro Penitente, Cordillera Vidal, and flows into Argentina, in the Río Gallegos, to end in the Atlantic Ocean. The structure of the river presents a series of curves and pools that, together with its low depth, provide the favorable habitat for brown trout and also searuns that are more likely to be found at the end of the season. The river bordered by large hills with native vegetation, such as ñirre and lenga forests, livestock facilities and the late 19th century manor house, make this a majestic and peaceful place to enjoy.

Lunch

In our barbecue area, we invite you to enjoy the typical gastronomy of a Patagonian ranch, where you will be able to appreciate the art of preparing tasty lamb roasted on a stick and then accompany it with a well-known Chilean red wine. To get used to the Magellanic culture, they will be able to witness one of the most important activities in the countryside: the shearing of a sheep, carried out in the original facilities of the estancia.

Magallanes Forest Reserve

Visit the Magallanes National Reserve and make a connection with the flora and fauna surrounding Punta Arenas. Includes shared transportation.

Price per person:

US$48 per person.

Times:

09:00 am to 12:30 pm
and 02:00 pm to 05:30 pm

Duration:

3 hours and a half.

Minimum of passengers

Departure from 2
passengers.

We will begin with the pickup at your hotel at the agreed time to leave Punta Arenas and go 5 km to the west, to the Brunswick Peninsula. Here, in the limit of the Grande River, we will begin walking by the Magallanes National Reserve. We will be able to follow the Bocatoma track, one for people with restricted mobility and another exclusively for the observation of flora, all in company of our guide, who will give the corresponding explanations. After the excursion, our transportation will be waiting for us in the agreed point to go back to our corresponding accommodations in Punta Arenas.

24 hours.

We will pick you up at your hotel in the morning to take the route to the park, 194 km of Punta Arenas. On the way, we will be able to see the Patagonian steppe, landscape with a wonderful flora and fauna. We will pass by the Estancia San Gregorio (optional stop) so then we continue the road towards the Pali Aike National Park, finding a landscape covered with lava and semi-desert vegetation. The natural scenery, having volcanic cones, natural caves, craters and walls, will make you feel that you are visiting a lunar place. We will start the trek inside the park, with which we will visit different places, like the pools of the Devil, Maar, the Devil's Dwelling and the Ana Lagoon, among others. In addition, we will visit the main tourist attraction of the place, the Pali Aike Cave, where human remains of more than 10,000 years old were found. After being walked 5 miles, we will go back to Punta Arenas in our transportation, which will take you to your hotel around 8:00 pm.

Cancellation and rescheduling policy:

3 days.

We will meet in the meeting point early in the morning to begin a 5 hours trip that will take us from Puerto Natales to the Perito Moreno Glacier, in Argentina. On our way to that place, we will make two stops: The first one in the Don Guillermo border crossing, where we will make the customs and migration formalities; the second one, in El Calafate bus station, where a guide will join us and direct our visit to the Los Glaciares National Park, protected natural area where is located the glacier. You will be able to stay in the national park for 2 hours in which you will go through the walkways in front of the Perito Moreno Glacier. On the tour, we will find several viewpoints, from where we will have different views of this ice mass, even having the possibility to see ice calving from more than 70 m. Also you will have the option of going over the walkways for 1 hour and take the 1 hour navigation in front of the glacier, which will be possible if there is a confirmed tour with availability at the moment of visiting the place, if the weather conditions allow it, and if there are no delays with the border crossing. After making the tour, we will go back to Puerto Natales.

For the tour it is mandatory for all passengers of the booking that their travel document (id card or passport) be valid and in excellent condition (the chip and the QR code must not have any details, like being cracked or patched), and present a vaccination certificate against Covid-19 with at least 2 doses and having passed at least 15 days after the second one. In case you don't have any vaccine,* you must present a PCR with negative result made maximum 48 hours before the tour. In case you don't fulfill some of these requirements, Denomades will not make any refund out of the deadlines established in the cancellation policy of the activity.

Resident in Chile Venezuelan passengers will be able to make the tour only if they have permanent residence in the country.*

FULL DAY KING PENGUIN

Price per person:
US$105
per person.
Times:
07:00 am to 09:30 pm
Duration:
14 hours.
Included: Pickup at your

accommodation (urban area), shared transport, bilingual guide (Spanish and English) and ferry ticket

Not included:

Lunch and entrance fee Reserva Natural Pingüino Rey (US$17 per person, payment On board Victoria Majestic

We will pick you up to begin the way to the starting point of the navigation across the Magellan Strait, so you can reach Tierra del Fuego island. In that place, you will go to the King Penguin Natural Reserve, in Bahía Inútil. There, you will be received by a local guide, who will give instructions for the visit, as well as important information about this penguin species, the second largest in the world. The observation is made from specific points, from a 50-meter (164 feet) distance and in total silence, so you don't disturb these animals. After about 1 hour of observation and tour by the marked track, you will go back to the vehicle to continue the trip by Tierra del Fuego.

Depending on how the day's itinerary is organized, you will have the possibility of visiting the city of Porvenir, make a small tour and have lunch. The same way, you will stop in Estancia San Gregorio (whether it be on the trip going to Tierra del Fuego or on the way back), built since 1878 and that still have some facilities standing, although abandoned.

The crossing to Tierra del Fuego island might be through Tres Puentes or Punta Delgada. Depending on this, it is possible that you don't visit Porvenir and the tour lasts 3 more hours. Independent the route, the price of the tour remains the same.

The ending time of this activity might be modified, reason why our recommendation is not to buy tickets for leaving Punta Arenas until three hours after the returning time or travel the next day after the end of the tour.*

The pickup time will be reconfirmed the night before the tour through phone call or WhatsApp, and it might be between 6:00 am and 8:00 am.*

FAQ

- In what period of the year the tour is made?*

The tour is made from September to May.

- How far can I see the penguins during the visit to the Pingüino Rey Park?*

You can see the penguins from the tracks of the park, to a 50 meters (164 ft.) distance, approximately.

- Where is the Magellan Strait crossing point for reaching Tierra del Fuego?

The crossing to Tierra del Fuego island might be through Tres Puentes or Punta Delgada. Depending on this, it is possible that you don't visit Porvenir and the tour lasts 3 more hours. Independent the route, the price of the tour remains the same.

- Which kind of vessels are used for the navigations?

The Primera Angostura crossing is made in vessels with capacity for 250 or 184 people, depending on which one is available at the momento of your trip. The Tres Puentes crossing is made in a vessel with capacity for 360 people.

Description:	Departure from the pier, we will take you to the best experience all over the planet, there is no other place so accessible, fast and protected to see and photograph the largest flying bird in the world, the famous and majestic Andean Condor (Vultur gryphus). In just 60-70 minutes by car from Punta Arenas, you can access the largest "Condorera" in Chilean Patagonia, which hosts an average of 40 to 50 condors during the year. It is located in Estancia Olga Teresa, commune of Green River. The tour begins in a conference room with a coffee break, where a presentation with information about the Andean condor will be shown. The normal visit involves a short walk of less than 500 meters of flat land until we reach below the rock wall that serves as a roost for the condors. Researchers will show then the Condors, using a powerful telescope. In addition, the project of preservation and research of Condors lends the visitors a pair of professional quality binoculars. Simultaneously, the researcher will explain the biology and behavior of the condors and will use the telescope to show the known and identified individuals with a particular name, and you will be available to take trophy photos through the telescope using your portable phone or camera. The visit its better on the afternoon, having the highest probability of success on watching Condors, which is when the birds return to the Condorera to rest and sleep after having fed. Return to the pier.

Complete and detailed tour description

Description:	Departure from the pier, we will take you to the best experience all over the planet, there is no other place so accessible, fast and protected to see and photograph the largest flying bird in the world, the famous and majestic Andean Condor (Vultur gryphus). In just 60-70 minutes by car from Punta Arenas, you can access the largest "Condorera" in Chilean Patagonia, which hosts an average of 40 to 50 condors during the year. It is located in Estancia Olga Teresa, commune of Green River. The tour begins in a conference room with a coffee break, where a presentation with information about the Andean condor will be shown. The normal visit involves a short walk of less than 500 meters of flat land until we reach below the rock wall that serves as a roost for the condors. Researchers will then show the Condors, using a powerful telescope. In addition, the project of preservation and research of Condors lends the visitors a pair of professional quality binoculars. Simultaneously, the researcher will explain the biology and behavior of the condors and will use the telescope to show the known and identified individuals with a particular name, and you will be available to take trophy photos through the telescope using your portable phone or camera. The visit its better on the afternoon, having the highest probability of success on watching Condors, which is when the birds return to the Condorera to rest and sleep after having fed. Before returning to pier, we will enjoy a patagonian lunch inside the Estancia. Return to the pier.
Remarks:	Punta Arenas downtown: Capital of the Magallanes region. Its economy is based on the services it provides, mainly to hydrocarbon and coal mining, sheep farming and the fishing industry. In addition, it is a supply port for large-tonnage ship traffic through the Strait, as well as the main air and sea port for expeditions to Antarctica. Condor (Vultur gryphus): it is a species of bird in the Cathartidae family, inhabits between the Andes mountain range and the adjacent Pacific coasts in western South America. An adult can reach a height of one meter fifty with open wings. Estancia Olga Teresa: a magical place in the middle of the beautiful Chilean Patagonia, where you can experience all the Magellan tradition.

Description:	Departure from the pier, we will visit the Magallanes National Reserve, a wooded protected area with a variety of trails for trekking and mountain biking. The reserve is located only 8 kilometers to the west of the city of Punta Arenas and has an area of 20,878 hectares. Within it is the Río de las Minas, a river where the discovery of coal was made, the main reason the governor José de los Santos Mardones moved the Fort Bulnes colony to the area of Sandy Point or Punta Arenas in 1848. At the beginning of the excursion, we will cross different neighborhoods to the south of the city, to soon take a paved road that leads us to the reserve. Once there, we must take a 4 kilometers road surrounded by the Patagonian forest that takes us to the beginning of the path, where we will walk for about half an hour. During the walk, we can see different species of flora such as romerillo, zarzaparrilla, devil strawberry, calafate, murtilla, notro, leñadura, michay and forests of coigüe and lenga. Among the bird species, it is possible to spot chunchos, rayaditos, chercanes, cachañas, chincoles, cometocinos, thrushes and tiuques. From the trail we will also have a panoramic view of the valley of the Río De las Minas on its way to the Strait of Magellan. The return to Punta Arenas is by the same route. Return to the pier.
Remarks:	Punta Arenas downtown: Capital of the Magallanes region. Its economy is based on the services it provides, mainly to hydrocarbon and coal mining, sheep farming and the fishing industry. In addition, it is a supply port for large-tonnage ship traffic through the Strait, as well as the main air and sea port for expeditions to Antarctica. Punta Arenas neighborhood: Along the way, we will be able to appreciate varied neighborhoods that are very different from the boom times, such as the mansions belonging to pioneer families, and even social housing buildings today as a response to the growing population. Magalleean Reserve National park: created in 1932, it covers nearly 52 acres. Includes 5 trails. On a clear day, you can appreciate panoramic views of the Strait of Magellan, and even Tierra del Fuego, while exploring the Patagonian flora and fauna.
